

Louis Dreyfus Company is one of the world's largest merchandizers of wheat and corn. Leveraging our extensive asset network across the globe, we originate and merchandize wheat, corn, sorghum, barley, rye, oats, corn-based ethanol and other corn by-products.

World's top corn exporters

There are about 5,000 different varieties of wheat!

147lbs or 67kg

Approx. average global consumption of wheat per person, each year

Corn is a key ingredient in many gluten-free foods of the world's corn is used for animal feed

1851

The year our founder, Léopold Louis-Dreyfus, made his 1st trade of wheat

Wheat is the most cultivated crop in the world, grown over approx. 220 million hectares!

Russia has more than doubled its wheat production in the past 30 years, becoming a global exporter

Historically, barley was used as currency and for measurement - even to determine shoe size! In the 1800's, the English defined 1 inch = 3 grains.

352 million tons total volume of global grains trade

90% of the world's food energy intake comes from 15 plants, and the top 3 are... corn, wheat & rice!

39lbs or 18kg
Approx. average global consumption of corn per person, each year

43% less GHG (Greenhouse Gas) emissions from corn-based ethanol vs. gasoline

Wheat is an ingredient in paper, hair conditioner, medical swabs and many more products

